Commission Awards Contract To Roemer

Contracts were awarded for the new water plant and the furnishings for the new library Monday night by the City Commission.

The low bidder for the water plant was Roemer Construction Co., of Belle Glade at a cost of $644,974.40.

Low bidder for the water storage tank, Pittsburgh-Des Moines Steel Co., $98,440, was asked for an additional 90 days in which to accept the bid. The city, said Tevis Hughes, city manager, is approximately $77,880 short of the total for the two projects but may be able to finance the storage tank within the extension period.

The total project will cost $839,679. This includes legal and engineering fees in addition to the construction cost. Contracts for shelves, tables, charge desk, chairs and furniture for the new library were also awarded by the commission.

EIGHTEEN NURSES TO RESIGN?

Hospital Faces Waiver

Feb. 14 Set Deadline As Final

Eighteen nurses at Glades General Hospital have threatened resignation effective midnight, Feb. 14. Their letter, expressing their request to the Hospital Board is reprinted here in full. The nurses have asked to have it understood that their primary objective was not just a raise in salary. They feel, however, that a higher salary will attract more personnel to the Glades General Hospital relieving the overload which they say is their main concern.

As stated in the letter, nurses are both worried about and exasperated over the working conditions that demand only one nurse for 40 to 50 patients.

The nurses called for a meeting Sunday night to hear the Hospital Board's decision. The meeting of the Administrator, nurses and the Hospital Board proved unbeneficial when nurses refused to comment further on the letter they had submitted. Negotiations cannot continue with representatives of the nurses, doctors and Hospital Board, both Ben Clark, Hospital Administrator, and the nurses said.

Mrs. Jacqueline Carter tendered her resignation effective Feb. 28 two hours before the nurses submitted their resignation. Nurses say the moves were unrelated.

"I feel the situation can and will be resolved. The Nursing Department is certainly willing to help work out the problem," said Clark.

The $350,000 revenue bond issue will be ready for sale on February 21, and it is reasonable to assume that it will take several additional days for the bonds to be processed, even if there is a market for the total amount when they go up for sale, Clark said.

The bonds first went before the court for validation in mid-January after which there was a 20 day waiting period required by law before the bonds could be marketed. During this waiting period a financial advisor asked for a change to a technical point affecting the marketability of the bonds. The change was approved by the Hospital board of directors after which the issue again came before the court and was validated.

Florida Agriculture Department Joins UFFVA

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. — The Florida Department of Agriculture has joined the United Fresh Fruit and Vegetable Association's Association of shippers, growers, wholesalers, brokers and groups of retailers and members of allied industries and serves all factors in the production and marketing of fresh fruit and vegetables.

Conner said he felt it was appropriate that his department join during the administration of Gene McCabe, the first Floridian to serve as president of UFFVA. McCabe has been named to the board of the UFFVA upon the expiration of his term as president.

He added that UFFVA members, at one time or another in the marketing cycle, handle an estimated 75 percent of the total commercial fresh fruit and vegetable shipments in the United States.

Obtaining membership of the Florida Department of Agriculture in the organization was one of the last official acts of McCabe who is executive vice president and sales manager of Pioneer Growers Co-operative of Belle Glade, Florida.

In signing the agreement, Conner commended McCabe for his dedicated progressive leadership as UFFVA's president during 1966 — a year McCabe traveled some 40,000 miles in behalf of the organization.

IUD, AFL-CIO Proposal Rejected By Association

A proposal by the Industrial Union Department of AFL-CIO to set up industry-wide unionization of Florida farm workers with the cooperation of the Florida Fruit and Vegetable Association was rejected last Thursday by the growers' organization, according to George H. Wedgworth, president.

The FFVA spokesman said that the organization's rejection of the union proposal was based in part upon the belief that any such agreement with the union would tend to deprive workers and our members of their individual rights.

The bid for an implied unionization of farm workers was made January 18 by James Peters, Union Coordinator, as an apparent alternative to a farm-by-farm, worker-by-worker union effort.

The complete text of Wedgworth's formal reply to the proposal was as follows: "In answer to your request that I discuss with officials of Florida Fruit and Vegetable Association your proposal that Florida Fruit and Vegetable Association become the vehicle for industry-wide negotiations and unionization of farm workers. I have discussed this subject with responsible officials of our association. Every aspect of your general proposal was given thorough consideration. We share your view that the mishandling of affairs to date and the intervention by outside elements has clouded and confused the entire situation to the detriment of all responsible groups.

"The interest of farm workers has long been a matter of importance and concern to our members and much progress has been accomplished through the coordinated efforts of growers, agricultural organizations and other groups. With Florida farm workers, record of progress in working conditions and opportunities so clearly evident, we cannot accept the implied view that the continued social progress of our farm employees now suddenly depends either upon their willingness or the agricultural industry's willingness to submit to unionization.

"The question whether a person should join a union or not within the province or person and personal question that can only be properly resolved by the individual worker. It is not within the province or policy of FFVA to deprive any individual of the right to make such a choice.

construction and land. Rev. Greene said he did not think that the boycott presently being conducted by the United Farm Workers Organizing Committee was working for a solution to the housing problem.

Several members of the group expressed regret that the IUD and the UFOWC were the only ones actively opposing present living conditions. "We shouldn't have to be told by outsiders that something is wrong, we all know conditions could be vastly improved, we should do something about improving them," was the sentiment expressed by many members of the group.

Nurses

dated as amended. Another 20 day waiting then had to be observed. Today is the eighth day of that waiting period.

The major portion of money from the bond issue will be used to repay a $222,000 loan executed on September 30, 1966.

"It was the intention of the board, and still is, to make certain adjustment in salary," Clark said.

The $222,000 loan was negotiated in order to gain operating capital until a revenue issue could be sold, he added. Some changes have been made recently in the hospital operation, Clark said.

"The Nursing Staff has more than bent over backwards in the move to second and third floors, in fact I think they exerted 110 per cent," Clark said.

The hospital has also been preparing for accreditation inspection that was held Tuesday.

The nurses wrote the following letter expressing the problem on the request of administrator Ben Clark.

The expressed desire to sit down with you and discuss the problems connected with nursing service was our original request. No demands were stated, no ultimatums were given.

We asked only that you hold a conference with the nursing staff. However we have been forced to put specific complaints "in writing."

We regret, that after months of complaining to the administrative department about many different problems, the only way we could be heard was by tendering a mass resignation effective as of February 14, 1967, which we the undersigned still consider to be in effect.

We are disturbed that Mr. Clark interpreted our efforts to find solutions to our problems as a declaration of war between the nursing staff and the administration.

The majority of professional nurses at present are citizens of this community, fully aware of the financial difficulties facing Glades General Hospital. However, we are also professional nurses with a desire to provide the best nursing care possible for the people of this community. The present nursing service being rendered is intolerable and we can no longer remain complacent and ignore the obvious.

In an attempt to discuss and possibly find a solution to some of our problems, we met recently with Mr. Ben Clarke, Hospital Administrator. He gave no indication that the situation was going to improve either in one week or six weeks.

Two of the "gripes and complaints" that we consider to be important not only to the nurses, but the doctors, Board of directors, patients and community as a whole are:

1. Fifty to sixty patients on Memorial Wing, many seriously ill and one nurse, two aides and sometimes an orderly.

2. Fresh post operative patients on the post partum floor with the only nurse and aide in the labor and delivery area.

Leaving the floor unattended for one or two hours or longer.

3. The problem is additional employees for the nursing service department. More professional nurses and in the event this is not possible, added auxiliary personnel.

The only way any business can obtain and maintain an adequate staff is through competitive salary and solid personnel policies. Therefore we recommend the following change as a start toward a solution to the problems at hand:

1. $510.00 starting salary for RN's with 15% differential.

2. $375.00 starting salary for LPN's with 15% differential.

3. $200.00 starting salary for aides and orderlies with $5.00 per year increase retroactive to first year of employment.

4. Head nurses $25.00 per month extra.

5. $200.00 starting salary for aides and orderlies with $5.00 per year increase retroactive to first year of employment.

6. $25.00 per day part time RN's.

7. Deduction of a minimum of $45.00 from salaries of nurses living in Residence or compensation of equal value for nurses maintaining private residences.

8. Immediate action toward establishing a committee for studying a solid personnel policy of nursing service—employees, composed of the administrator, chief of staff, a board member, director of nurses and a member of the nursing staff.

We do not desire to abandon the local hospital, but neither can we conform to the type of nursing care we are forced to provide for the citizens of this community. Therefore we ask the Administrator, Board of Directors and Medical Staff to examine consider and reach a decision by 7:00 P.M. Sunday, February 5, 1967 at which time the entire nursing staff will be present in the cafeteria at Glades General Hospital to hear your decision.

Mr. and Mrs. John Busbee were Sunday night dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Fountain in Belle Glade.

In Tribute To Emil Zywicki

By George Young

Most of us reach a point in life where the reading of the newspaper from our old home town is centered on the obituaries which call to mind all kinds of memories which we have not thought of for years past.

Last week our local paper carried the obituary of another of our old timers. To many of us Emil Zywicki was not a Glades character whose passing called to mind many different thoughts in many different people.

The cause of his coming to the Glades after farming was well established here was some what different than most.

He had been a successful farmer in New York State and had made a previous trip to the Tampa-St. Petersburg area.

The year after this trip he said to his wife, "Let's take another honeymoon trip."

The results was the discovery of the rich muck of the Glades in which the two of them decided to make their home.

Having come to America from Poland after his maturity in 1913 he never developed a grammatical or speaking mastery of the English language but his keen intelligence made up for the difference in the business world.

Few who ever visited in the Zywicki home, attended a Zywicki wedding party or their Golden Wedding anniversary celebration have failed to realize that Emil Zywicki was a devoted husband and father, nor will they soon forget the lavish hospitality showered upon them.

Emil Zywicki paid his debts when due and would not buy that which he did not know he could pay for. He was an individualist and ordinarily did not join in cooperative undertakings with other farmers though he was a member of the Pioneer Growers Cooperative where he enjoyed the cooperative and efficient sales service provided by them.

The Glades has been a colorful community of colorful people.

With Emil Zywicki's passing we lose another of our colorful personalities who have left a legacy of tradition and his family who can take pride in his memory.

Thought of the Week

The most utterly lost of all days is that in which you have not once laughed.
Chamfort, 1741-94

Civic Responsibility

Civic Responsibility is to the community what self discipline is to the individual.

All communities have faults, some have more than others. If a community is to prosper, it must be able to recognize these faults without the help of outsiders. We the people of the Glades have had an invaluable lesson both from the "Harvest of Shame" and the recent migrant disorders.

We are proud of those citizens who have been meeting recently for the purpose of finding and correcting the inadequacies of migrant housing. We are also proud of the many people who are giving of their time working for a four lane highway, developing the marina, beautifying the city, and making the library a reality among other worth while civic endeavors.

A community working to solve its problems can then ask for help from many sources.

It must be remembered that in order for us to ask help from others, we must first put forth an effort of our own; we must establish the image of a community that is working towards its own betterment without outside help.

This is the principle on which our country was founded and on which it will survive.

SENSING THE NEWS

By Thurman Sensing

EXECUTIVE VICE PRESIDENT

Southern States Industrial Council

The tragic flash fire in which three young American astronauts lost their lives is a terrible reminder of the unequal burdens of patriotic endeavor in this era. Like other unfortunate young Americans in Viet Nam, the astronauts not only used their energies not only in pursuit of their country's objectives but they gave their lives as well. Both the astronauts and the American people are victims who have died in Viet Nam are heroes.

At least, they should be regarded as heroes. Yet the sad truth is that American heroism is consistently downplayed. The New York Times and other liberal journals in the United States devote endless columns to alleged sufferings in Viet Nam, but the full measure of the American servicemen's sacrifice just doesn't come through as it should. It almost seems as though certain powerful forces in the nation didn't want Americans to recognize the heroism of their patriotic youth, or even to have heroes at all.

How different the situation is from a few years ago when the television networks and liberal journals were doing their best to attribute heroism to the entire "civil rights" movement. For a number of years, any unbalanced youth who hadn't taken a bath in a week but who was engaged in a "sit-in," "lie-in" or "kneel-in" was the subject of rave reviews. The Rev. Martin Luther King, Jr. and his lieutenants were given far more favorable treatment in many quarters than winners of the Medal of Honor in Viet Nam.

This can only lead sensible men to conclude that our scale of values in this country is skewed. A vast engine of publicity operated at high speed during the height of the "civil rights" madness to promote those who invaded courthouses, blocked streets, impeded the work of legitimate businesses, and who generally proved incipient to violence. Synthetic martyrs were created overnight. Enormous news coverage was lavished on those who insisted on taking over public highways to rive national attention on their political goals.

Fortunately, the frenzy has quieted somewhat. The public machine heroes have largely departed the scene. Yet the "protesters" still get plenty of attention. The heard and scandal on college campuses, who scream that the U. S. must stop wars, and the University of California at Berkeley. Immediately after the television cameras. How is it, one wonders, that there are so few dissenters or magazine articles on the Viet Nam veterans?

Yet Gov. Reagan wasn't in charge at Berkeley when swarms of Viet Nam veterans turned that institution into the West Coast equivalent of the Castro rally. Dr. Kerr was supposed to be in charge, but he failed to keep the kind of order necessary for educational progress. Now the liberals try to shift the focus of public attention from the real mess at Berkeley, and from those responsible for the disorders, and seek to crucify the state's Chief Executive who is trying to restore order and decency in an institution paid for by the taxpayers of California.

In short, something is very wrong about the way the story of our national life is told. Americans should know about their heroes, not simply the draft-card burners. They should see fanatics as fanatics, not as martyrs who make a career of "sit-ins." The story of the healthy mainstream of American life should be told more fully and in balance.

THANKS!

Being newcomer of four months to the Belle Glade area we would like to give credit to all the fine people here who have so warmly welcomed us into the Belle Glade community.

Having lived in areas from Michigan to Florida, both large and small, never have we made more of our friends than we are privileged to know here.

We just hope we can extend this friendship to many others as years pass by.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Baldwin

Uncle Dan From Doolie Says:

Dear Mister Editor:

You probably will quit running my little piece in your paper when I tell you what I do yesterday.

I set down and wrote a letter to my Congressman and told him I didn't never aim to vote for him if he didn't vote to cut off all foreign aid to ever country in the world.

On account of the weather being half bad lately and me being all the way late, I was spending my time all week reading and studying the matter.

What brought up my verdict was hearing one of them Washington column writers that was just back from Paris telling folks on television that General DeGaulle was whispering to his close friends that we stole Louisiana from France in 1803 and actual Louisiana would be longed to France. This fellow on television reported DeGaulle was saying we didn't give but $15 million for that territory and furthermore the French authorities that sold it didn't have no legal right to make the deal.

That's the kind of fellow running France, a country we bailed out of two world wars and rebuilt after the last war.

This put me to studying some newspaper. I was saving in a box under the bed and one of these pieces, that was put out by a U. S. Senator, reported the United States had spent $880 billion on foreign aid since the end of World War II and we ain't got a friend in the world except South Korea and Formosa, two small countries that was depending on us to keep 'em from getting invaded.

I don't recollect from my history book in the sixth grade how much we paid Russia for Alaska and when we bought it, but I'm looking any day now for them Russians to claim the price was too low and the sale wasn't official.

According to the papers, we have give France more of that $880 billion than any other country and I was reading a piece yesterday where France was making us pay $3 million to French civilian workers for losing their jobs when NATO moves out of France after that country ordered us to get out of the country.

And most of them countries in South America that was getting millions from American tax payers, was carrying it to the bank with one hand and burning up our embassy flag with the other.

With all the money we was squandering away here at home and the cost of the War in Viet Nam, we can't keep on this way. We need to get our own countries without taxes eating us up in the end. I was talking to my old lady, that ain't agreed with me political more'n a half dozen times in 40 years, but she was agreed on this one and our Congressman has done lost two votes if he don't see the light.

Yours truly,
Uncle Dan

PBJC Tennis Looks Good For '67

Now in its second year of intercollegiate sports with only one team so far above the 500 mark, last year's golf team won six, last two, Palm Beach Junior College will soon have its second winning team, according to tennis coach, Harry D. McGirt.

McGirt, whose Tennis Pacers posted a respectable 3-7 record last year, makes his prediction in spite of the fact that only one team is returning from last year's squad, and he didn't play in a single match. "Unless the other teams improve greatly, we'll be well over 500," McGirt says, "If the opposition stacks up like it did last year, we would win every match easily except the two with Miami-Dade North, last year's national champs."

The catch is that in Junior College circles, any team can change completely from one year to the next, as the Pacers will this year, so prediction becomes difficult.

"Miami-Dade North has to be the team to beat," McGirt says. "They have their two top players back, but we'll have two who can battle them on pretty even terms, and beat them if they are not at the top of their game."

As McGirt expects John Darst, a sophomore from Lake Worth, to win his number one position, but only after a battle from scrappy Kenneth Betts, a freshman from Pahokee.

Darst was on campus last year, but was ineligible to play. McGirt is confident he is not based on overwhelming play from two good men. He figures his number three, and five men may well be the best in the state, even though he's not sure who they'll be.

"We have five players to watch for these three spots," McGirt said. "Any of them could make it."

"Bob Rohr, Palm Beach Gardens, is a sophomore with good potential. He was on the squad last year but became ineligible for play."

"Another sophomore, Robert Rosen, of Pompano Beach, a transfer, has less experience than some of the other players, but is a thinker and a fighter."

"Glenn Wellman, a freshman from West Palm Beach, played at Forest Hill and is one of the best all around players on the team."

John Bartuska, Boynton Beach, played number three at Seacrest last year, and has the desire to excel.

"Gary Varrell, a freshman and the only left-hander on the squad, played competitive tennis two years to June of 1966. County Senior High. He has determination, good reflexes and an excellent attitude in support operations involving some of the Nation's largest air movements of troops and equipment."

"Last year's squad lost five matches by one point," McGirt said. "In other words we were only five points away from an 8-2 record."

"Our prospects have improved so much that if our top players last year had been back, they'd be battling hard to make the team."

"I'm being conservative when I say we'll win more than we lose."

Mrs. Harville Hostess To Circle
The Cannonized Circle of the Jane Evans Missionary Society, met at the home of Mrs. Janie Harville on Jan. 17th, with seven members present.

The program, "Literacy in Alaska" was presented by Mrs. Shirley Evans and Mrs. Ramona Smith. It was noted that many of the Eskimos and Indians in Alaska learn to read and write. They are being taught, to a great extent, by Baptist Missionaries. This is a great step in our Missionary work in this our largest state.

HEAR FAMED REBELS QUARTET

On Friday, Feb. 10 at 8 p. m., the well known Gospel singers, the Rebels Quartet will be at the Church of God, 301 S. E. Ave. E. No admission will be charged but a free will offering will be taken. Rev. Sindle and his congregation are happy to have this outstanding group for this special service of gospel singing. Seating is limited, so come early.

The Rebels Quartet of Tampa, Florida, was organized 18 years ago with a group of young Tampa business men devoting their spare time to Gospel singing on local radio stations and in the area's schools and churches. Over the years, the popularity of the Rebels Quartet has grown to such an extent that today they are considered to be one of the greatest Gospel singing groups in America, and are often referred to as being America's foremost sinners of Gospel and spiritual songs.

They are veterans of extensive network television and radio, and their recordings are always top-rated. Equally successful are the Rebels' personal appearances, where they can consistently draw record crowds wherever they appear, whether it be in their own warm, native state of Florida, or other parts of the country. The Rebels Quartet's Gospel and spiritual songs on record are among the best sellers in the field of Gospel music. They have many different albums available and songs by the Rebels quartet on any Gospel DJ program are always among the most requested.

However, despite the fact that they travel some 100,000 miles each year making their television, radio and personal appearances, the Rebels still find time to be typical family men, active in the church and civic affairs of their own community. As a group, they reserve much of their time for public appearances in churches, before civic groups, schools and other non-profit organizations.

It could very easily be said of the Rebels Quartet that they perhaps do more church work than any other group of their kind.

Annual World Day Of Prayer Observance At Church Of God

The Annual World Day of Prayer sponsored by the United Church Women will be held at the Belle Glade Church of God this year. The community-wide service will begin at 3 p. m. Friday at the church located at 301 S. E. Ave. E. Belle Glade and will conclude at 4 p. m.

World Day of Prayer is truly world-wide in character. Basically the same service is used by groups in approximately 127 countries and territories of the world. This provides an extraordinary opportunity for fellowship at a deep level and the experience of Christian unity in prayer with Christians all over the world. Increasingly, persons from many nations are involved in shaping the observance.

Methodist Men Hear Evangelist

Reverend Ernest Luttrell, visiting Evangelist for the "Venture in Faith" meetings at Community Methodist Church each night, was guest speaker for Methodist Men at their regular monthly meeting Tuesday morning at 10:00 a. m. at the church. Mr. Luttrell, a successful real estate salesman for many years before being ordained as a minister about 12 years ago told how love for others, giving of himself and his money, and thanking God at the end of each day that things were not as bad as the could be had changed his life.

Dr. Howard Hill, Methodist Men president, announced the appointment of co-chairman Walter Bailey and Emil Wolf for the annual Pancake Supper to be held by the men at Jackson Hall Saturday night, February 25. Profits from the supper are to be used for missions and youth activities.

Worth begets in base minds, envy, in great souls, emulation.

Love and Fear

"There is no fear in love, but perfect love casts out fear. For fear has to do with punishment and he who fears is not perfected in love."
— 1 John 4:18

Everything that we know about God should inspire love, never fear. We should not, like a child, be good merely because we know punishment will surely come our way if we are not good. God is not a wrathful over-seer. No one is more aware of the frailties of human nature, nor more sure of the strength that comes from perfect love. Learn the true meaning of love and you will lose your feeling of fear.

Hooker Gets Sales Awards

Junior received sales awards from the Curtis Publishing Company for the class magazine sales drive last month.

Dick Hooker, top salesman, had sales totaling over $300. A liberty bell, one third the size of the actual bell, was awarded to him.

Hooker and ten other students with totals of over $100 received stuffed rams in blue and gold. The Curtis Publishing Company designed the rams especially for BGHS.

Other awards to these students were certificates for $25 worth of magazine subscriptions and a tin of recognition.

In addition studied airmail's, money and fountain pens were awarded to these students and other junior class members for their sales.

Placing second to Hooker in sales was Cathy Battle, who sold a total of $221. Other juniors totaling $100 were Debbie Uwin, Jill Bowen, Kathy Morris, Barbara Williams, Pam Whitlock, Molly Thomas, Marilyn Stokes, Carolyn Stokes and Jane Mills.

Juniors will use revenues from the magazine sales in their production of a Prom for the '67 Seniors.

Don was chosen for his qualities in leadership, academic work, and personality.

As one of the outstanding members of the senior class, Don received the superlative "Most Dependable." He was chosen for always helping on any project which the class undertakes.

Cars are an interest which occupies a majority of Don's spare time. He enjoys "working on cars" and lists a Chevrolet as his preference. He drives a 1957 green Chevy.

When asked his pet peeve Don replied, "to fail one semester test" because as he stated, "to fail one semester test messes up an entire report card!"

Born in Trion, Georgia, Don's favorite color is blue and he enjoys listening to B. J. Thomas's "Billy and Sue." He is often heard saying "ain't no way." When not working at the agriculture farm, he can usually be found at the lake, water skiing.

Students Of The Week

Alison L. Cann

The "de Vinci" who drew and painted a great deal of the 1966 Junior-Senior Prom scenery was Miss Alison Lovette Cann. Alison worked many long hours painting the wall background for the Oriental-themed prom. "Love is a Many Splendored Thing." She and Mrs. Rebecca Evans drew all the scenes and helped the other students paint them. Naturally then, Alison rates painting, drawing, and sketching as her major interests and pastimes.

Also occupying her spare-time, especially during the first three months of the year, is the game of tennis. Alison holds the number one position on the girls' tennis team although she feels that, as she stated, "I have much room for improvement."

Member of the Art Club and Beta Club, Alison is active in both and co-ordinates the art activities for the Art Club. As honor student, Alison enjoys reading and lists novels as her favorite reading material.

Voted as "Most Talented" of the Senior Class this year, she has helped with not only the prom, but also both of the floats presented by the 67 class and did the painting of the charging Rams that were used during football season.

Alison does whatever she can, whenever she can, to help her fellow classmates.

Born in Yarmouth, Nova Scotia, Canada, Alison spends her summers with relatives there. Her family moved to Cuba when she was a baby and lived there for approximately ten years. When Alison was in the sixth grade, her family moved to Belle Glade.

Alison plans to attend Boston School of Fine Arts in the fall of 1967 and major in art.

Betas Induct New Members

The annual Beta induction ceremony was held yesterday during sixth period to initiate the new members. To be eligible for membership, one must maintain a 3.0 or better average.

Don Alan Campbell

When one thinks of agriculture at BGHS, the name Don Alan Campbell comes to mind.

As president of the 1966-67 Future Farmers of America, he has been striving to improve the club and to bring more recognition for the club's outstanding activities. He plans to major in agriculture at a college in North Georgia and to later join the Navy.

Don was a representative at Boy's State this past summer. He was chosen for his qualities in leadership, academic work, and personality.

As one of the outstanding members of the senior class, Don received the superlative "Most Dependable." He was chosen for always helping on any project which the class undertakes.

Cars are an interest which occupies a majority of Don's spare time. He enjoys "working on cars" and lists a Chevrolet as his preference. He drives a 1957 green Chevy.

When asked his pet peeve Don replied, "to fail one semester test" because as he stated, "to fail one semester test messes up an entire report card!"

Born in Trion, Georgia, Don's favorite color is blue and he enjoys listening to B. J. Thomas's "Billy and Sue." He is often heard saying "ain't no way." When not working at the agriculture farm, he can usually be found at the lake, water skiing.

Letter To Teenagers

Judge Philip B. Gilliam of Denver, Colorado, in an "Open Letter to a Teenager" wrote several years ago in The Christian Herald:

Always we hear the plaintive cry of the teenager's "What can we do? ... Where can we go?" The answer is, "Go home. Hang the storm windows, paint the woodwork. Rake the leaves, mow the lawn, shovel the walk, wash the car, learn to cook, scrub the floors. Repair the sink, build a boat, get a job."

"Help the minister, priest or rabbi. Help the Red Cross, the Salvation Army. Visit the sick, assist the poor, study your lessons. And when you are through, and not too tired, read a book."

"Your parents do not owe you entertainment. Your city does not owe you a living ... You owe the world something. You owe it your time, and energy, and talents so that no one will be at war or sick or lonely again."

"In plain words, grow up! Quit being a crybaby. Get out of your dream world and develop a backbone, not a wishbone. And start acting like a man or a lady."

This may not represent good counseling, but it surely is good advice.

FHA Girls Hear

Talk On Grooming

Miss Doris Robinson and Mrs. Rafelet spoke to the Future Homemakers of America last week.

Representing the Robinson School of Beauty in Ft. Lauderdale, they showed pictures of popular hair styles and discussed proper make-up. Miss Robinson told the girls the importance of good-grooming habits. After the talk, the members asked the representatives questions concerning hair styles, face types, and make-up.

Seniors Order Announcements

Seniors chose graduation announcements in a class meeting last week. From three styles presented, a traditional one similar to the one used last year was selected.

The front part of the invitation contains the year of graduation and the high school's crest.

Each senior made his order which included the number of invitations and name cards desired.
